SRA Probers Are 'Welcome'

A. N. Paterson, San Mateo County's SRA superintendent, said here he would welcome to his office any of the Atherton agents reported to have been active in this county at various times over the past three months.

"I heard that an agent by the name of Greenfield had been down here from Atherton's office," Paterson said, "but there was nothing about San Mateo County in the preliminary report."

One state official close to Sen. John Phillips of Riverside County, chairman of an interim investigating committee, said he believed the Atherton sleuths had found nothing of note in this county.

"I think Paterson is doing the right thing," he said. "He's trying to put SRA clients back to work in private industry."

Confessed Deserter Held as Auto Thief

Charles William Carl, 21-year-old South Dakota itinerant who told Redwood City police he was a deserter from the United States Army, was held in the county jail here in lieu of $1000 bail, facing a charge of stealing an automobile here Saturday night.

Carl was arrested by San Mateo police at 4 p.m. yesterday while driving the car owned by Frank J. Guinasso, 203 Franklin St., Redwood City. Guinasso reported his car was taken from in front of his residence, near El Camino Real, about 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Former M. P. Woman Dies in Childbirth

BURLINGAME, Jan. 29—Mrs. Katherine H. Harris, 32, and her newborn infant died yesterday in a San Mateo hospital. Mrs. Harris lived here with her husband, Benjamin Harris, State Relief Administration social supervisor, and two children, Michael, 2½, and Susan, 1½.

Until three months ago she had lived in Menlo Park for a number of years. The family moved to Burlingame when Harris was transferred from the San Francisco SRA office to the San Mateo County office in San Mateo.

RAFFLES, WHY NOT STEAL A KISS?

Olivia de Havilland and David Niven provide the romantic interest in Samuel Goldwyn's "Raffles," the mystery melodrama about a gentleman crook, which starts a run at the Fox Sequoia Theater this Sunday, for three days. "All Women Have Secrets" will complement this picture on what is described as being a very amusing double bill.

Lifeguard Drowns, Itinerant Found Dead

An Hawaiian lifeguard died of a heart attack after a swim in the ocean off Pedro Point, and the body of an unidentified man was found on a hillside near Mussel Rock in the San Mateo County north end Sunday afternoon.

Kawaii Popohaku, 38, guard at Fleishhacker Pool, dropped dead on the beach after a dip in the ocean with several well known San Francisco swimmers, including Norman Hanley, noted Olympic Club diver. Coroner William F. Crosby said Popohaku's death might have been caused by the shock of the cold water.

Apparently an itinerant, the man found near Mussel Rock just off the Coast Hwy. had been dead about five days. Coroner Crosby said his death appeared to have been from natural causes.

Both bodies were taken to the Lasswell & Co. Funeral Home at Daly City.

Mission Trails Beauty Sought

Wanted: The most beautiful girl in the Mission Trails area!

The anxious bidder for a perfect specimen of feminine charm and beauty is the Golden Gate International Exposition, through its production manager, Earl Darfler.

Darfler, in conference with Howard M. Horrworth, manager of the California Mission Trails Association, which sponsors the Mission Trails building on Treasure Island, said today a "Miss Mission Trails" would be selected from the central coast counties.

The Mission Trails area covers Ventura, San Francisco, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Monterey, San Benito, Santa Cruz, San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties.

Darfler said he planned to start the contest in the Mission Trails area with Horrworth's cooperation. Plans are now being made to arrange for a similar contest in every regional section of California. Winners from these sections would enter a final contest to vie for "Miss Streamline" honors. "Miss Streamline" will be the theme girl of the 1940 Exposition.

Horrworth said the girl selected as "Miss Mission Trails" would make her headquarters in the beautiful Mission Trails building on Treasure Island during the exposition.

Contestants must be 18 and not over 25 years of age to enter the contest, which ends about Mar. 1. Applications to enter can be made through the local chamber of commerce or by writing to the offices of the California Mission Trails Association at the Plaza Hotel, San Francisco, or 412 West Sixth St., Los Angeles.

Name Is Sought For 'Cow Palace'

Starting next Monday, Feb. 5, school students in San Mateo County and San Francisco for two weeks may submit suggested names for the gigantic livestock pavilion at Bayshore City, now commonly called the "Cow Palace," the winning name and accompanying essay being eligible to win as much as $65.

Agricultural District 1-A, which sponsored the building and arena, said the contest would be open to public, private and parochial schools of elementary, junior and senior high school grades.

Students submitting names must accompany them with an essay of not more than 500 words on the appropriateness of the name and the value of the pavilion to California agricultural and live stock interests and to San Francisco and San Mateo Counties.

Seventeen citizens of the two counties will judge the names and essays. A total of $300 in prizes is offered. Elementary, junior and senior high schools each will receive $100 to be split —$65 for first prize, $25 for second, $10 for third. Names for the pavilion must contain not more than five words.

Solon Urges Aid for Parks

Possibility of early state aid in the acquisition of park areas adjacent to Big Basin, including the vast Butano Forest, a portion of which was offered to San Mateo County on a lease-payment plan, was seen in a bill introduced by Sen. Irwin T. Quinn of Eureka at Sacramento today.

The senator's bill would liquidate unapportioned money in the fund derived from oil royalties.

All money deposited in the state park maintenance and acquisition fund not otherwise appropriated will be appropriated solely for that purpose, if the bill becomes law.

The measure, Quinn explained, is "vital" at present, particularly in the Redwood Empire area. He said attempts have been made in recent years to commercialize State parks.

Americans spend more than $50,000,000 a year for chewing gum, $78,000,000 a year for doughnuts.

400 Enrolled In Peace Drive

SAN MATEO, Jan. 31—With a membership of 400 already pledged, the San Mateo County organization of the National Legion of Mothers laid plans yesterday for enrolling 3000. An executive committee announced that the 400 had been enrolled from Burlingame, San Mateo, Hillsborough, Belmont and Redwood City Plans now call for extension of the organization to 15 other communities in the county.

Mrs. Ruth Close, county chairman, declared that the move to preserve peace for the United States and to prevent sending American soldiers to foreign soil was meeting with a remarkable response.

"Judging from the spontaneous interest shown in this movement," she said, "this organization is something mothers everywhere have been waiting for, as a means to express their love of peace and hatred of war.

Kathleen Norris, novelist and president pro tem of the Mothers of America, will address the San Mateo County group Feb. 7 at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel.

ROMANCE IN TECHNICOLOR

Henry Fonda and Claudette Colbert as the young couple in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Drums Along the Mohawk" in Technicolor, who braved a thousand terrors together trying to wrest a home from the wilderness in the days when America was young. This 20th Century-Fox presentation is now playing at the Redwood Theater. "No Place to Go" is the companion feature.

Director John Ford Thinks On His Feet

John Ford, the Academy Award-winning director, has to think fast on his feet not only when he's directing one of the action-packed pictures for which he is famous. For example, he quickly solved a knotty problem for 20th Century-Fox by writing an extra scene into Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Drums Along the Mohawk," which he directed. This Technicolor film, starring Claudette Colbert and Henry Fonda, is now at the Redwood Theater.

Working with the 20th Century-Fox location troupe in Utah, "prop" men built an immense 18th century Continental fort of solid rough hewn stone and huge logs. As the set was constructed on government property, the company had to agree to tear it all down before departing.

It was built so solidly and of such heavy materials that the job of demolition, it was learned, would be much harder and take more time than the actual building! When Ford heard this, he wrote a scene into the picture in which the fort is finally blown up. The rest of the job, as far as the labor gang was concerned, was just a matter of carting away the debris.

The blowing-up of the fort as an after-thought gives some idea of the exciting action already in the Lamar Trotti-Sonja Levien script, based on the best-selling novel by Walter D. Edmonds. Ford has actually outdone himself in the medium to which he is best suited—the thrills and excitement of battle and hand-to-hand encounters. He depicts the desperate stand of the colonists against the fierce onslaught of the savage Iroquois, and in Technicolor the sequences far surpass anything he has ever done.

Ford also succeeded in getting as his cameraman on "Drums Along the Mohawk" his friend Bert Glennon, who was responsible for the superb photography of "Stagecoach." Featured in the cast are Edna May Oliver, Eddie Collins, John Carradine, Dorris Bowdon and others.

Carved Desk Given To Louis Dematteis

Honors were bestowed upon Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis Sunday when the Italian Catholic Federation paid him tribute as a past grand president at a testimonial banquet at the El Jardin Cafe in San Francisco.

Two hundred fifty members from the entire state gathered on this occasion, about 60 from Redwod City. The guest of honor received many telegrams of congratulations from those unable to attend, among them Mayor Rossi of San Francisco.

A program followed during which Dematteis was presented with a hand carved oak desk. During the dinner it had been covered with a blanket of flowers. A corsage of orchids was presented to Mrs. Dematteis.

Dancing followed.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

MENLO PARK, Feb. 2—The rainfall for the season to date is 10.20 inches as compared to 6.87 inches at this time last year.

H. E. Praetzel, the well-known San Francisco banker, who died recently, often visited his aunt, the late Mrs. M. Lynch here. Praetzel was manager of the Humboldt Branch of the Bank of America. The position was taken this week by Henry C. Maier, manager of the Burlingame branch.

The ancient railroad station has been given a complete coat of yellow paint, inside and out. This, for a time at least, puts an end to the recent rumors that the company contemplated the erection of a new building. The company should do this in memory of Senator Stanford, who made this station his landing place when he came in daily from San Francisco.

Old Mother Nature is a little premature this year in causing the acacia trees to bloom about two weeks ahead of time. The absence of frost and cold weather brought out the perfumed blooms in unusual abundance.

The Menlo Park Picnic Grounds have already been taken by various societies for the Summer season. The first outing will be on Apr. 1. The beautiful setting and closeness to the railroad and highway have made these grounds popular.

On Monday Menlo Park Post 443, American Legion, presented an Americanism program at the Central School Auditorium. Floyd Beach, Americanism chairman, was master of ceremonies. He introduced the following program:

Advancement of colors by the American Legion; pledge of allegiance led by a student, Melvin Wasserman; address of welcome by Oscar Olson, principal; reading of Americanism essays by the 11 members of the graduating class; talk on Americanism by Legionnaire Daniel Sullivan, assistant district attorney, San Mateo County; selections by Central School Orchestra directed by Max L. Gelber; Americanism awards to Patricia Feeley, first girls, and Richard de Forrest, first boys.

The following of Menlo Park Post acted as judges in the contest: Sullivan, Frank Ellis, Beach, Herbert Ditrick and Comrade Otto of New York.

The essays were all well presented and showed the result of serious study by the students who participated.

The program ended with the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the school orchestra.

The following pupils received their diplomas at Central School Wednesday evening: Ann McFaul, Teruko Adachi, Patricia Feeley, Phyllis Bressman, Gloria Howland, Henry Chew, Richard de Forrest, Augustine De Campo, Joseph Izhazaki, Melvin Wasserman, Albert Carroll. The school orchestra provided several numbers.

Menlo Park Horticultural Society installed the following officers Tuesday at impressive ceremonies held in the Menlo Park School Auditorium: N. Pastorino, retiring president; H. C. Perrell, president; F. Nolan, vice president; R. McIntosh, treasurer; P. Copp, financial secretary; L. T. Grimes, recording secretary; William Dale and T. Bowers, ushers. Past First Vice President R. Hughes was installing officer.

A large audience was present and after the business of the evening was disposed, entertainment was provided by William Daly and Dale.

Dorothy Roberts School of Dancing presented "Little Sir Echo" by Nancy Christensen; Jitterbug by Ann Kennedy; Apache, Irish Jig, military tap toe and hula by the Kinney Sisters, Billie Foster, Richard Angus and Mary Kinned.

Soprano solos were rendered by Isabelle Weeden Lindquist. Bill Jory and his mechanical puppet, assisted by Mrs. Jory at the piano, put on an act. Henry Barret played piano solos, Bob Copp, accordion.

Community singing with Henry Barrett at the piano and Bob Copp, accordionist, followed, after which refreshments and dancing were enjoyed.

An old bell in the ancient market house in Fayetteville, N. C., still rings the curfew at 9 o'clock each night.
